Capture a discussion by opening a word cloud

Your audience can answer questions using a one word response. Words that have been entered most appear the largest.

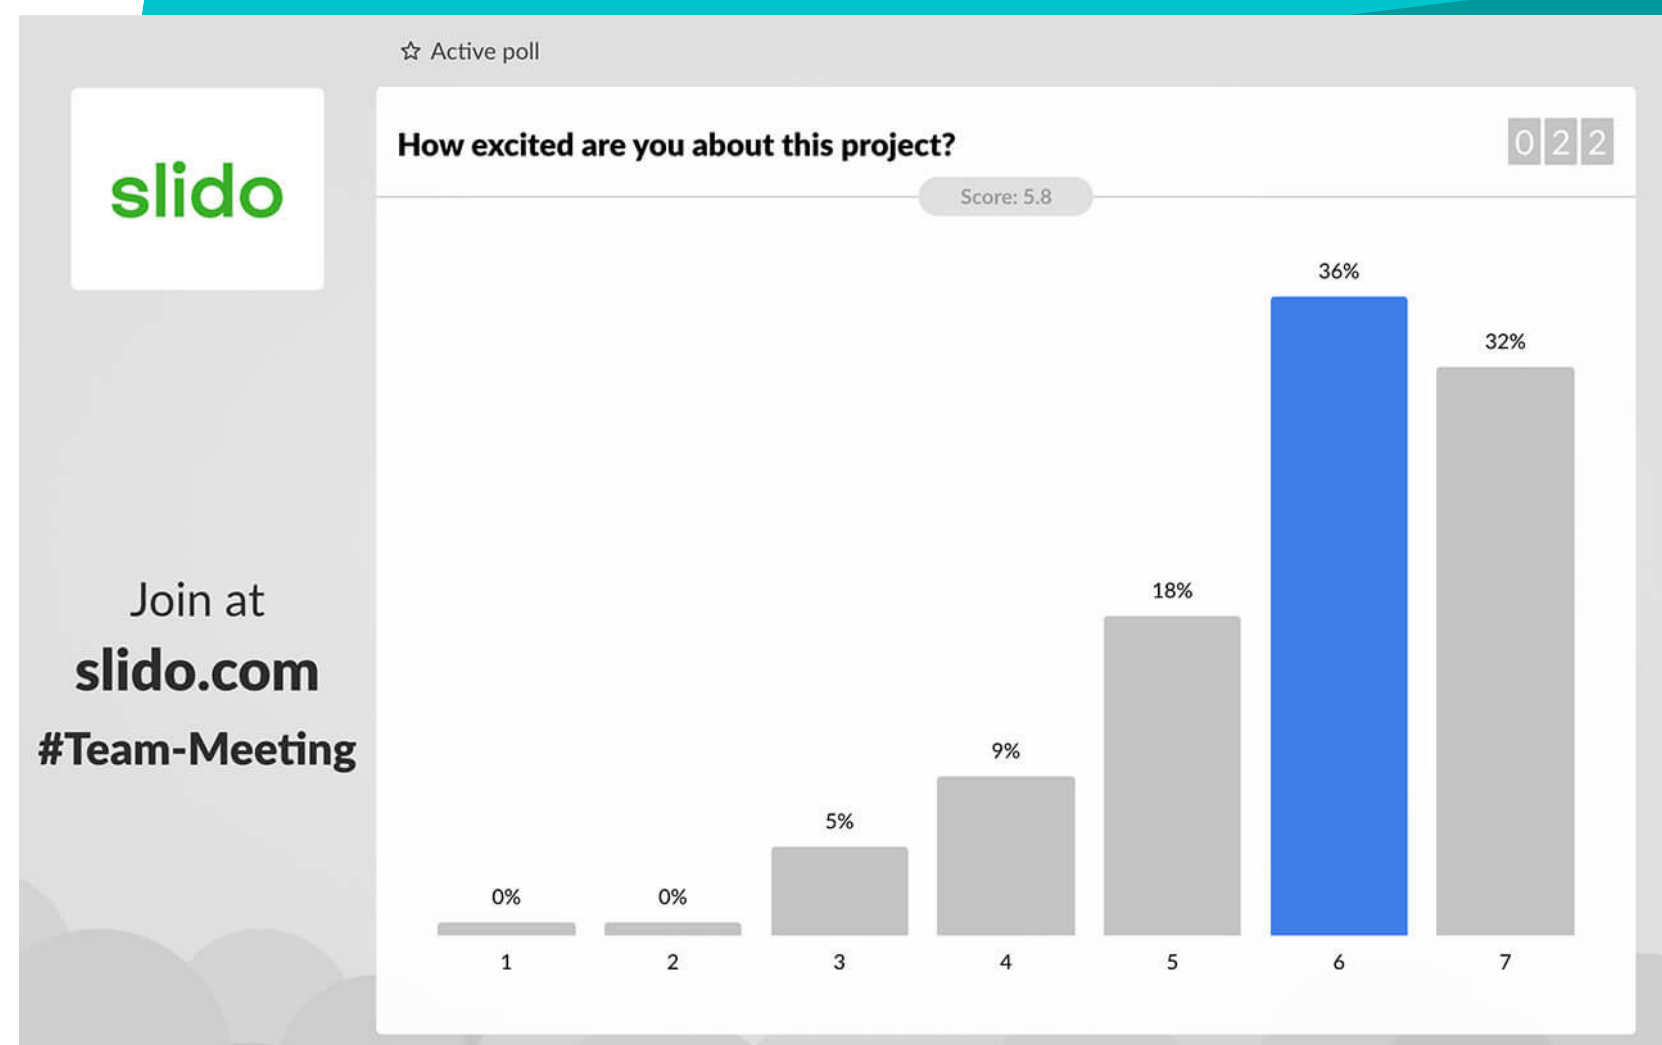

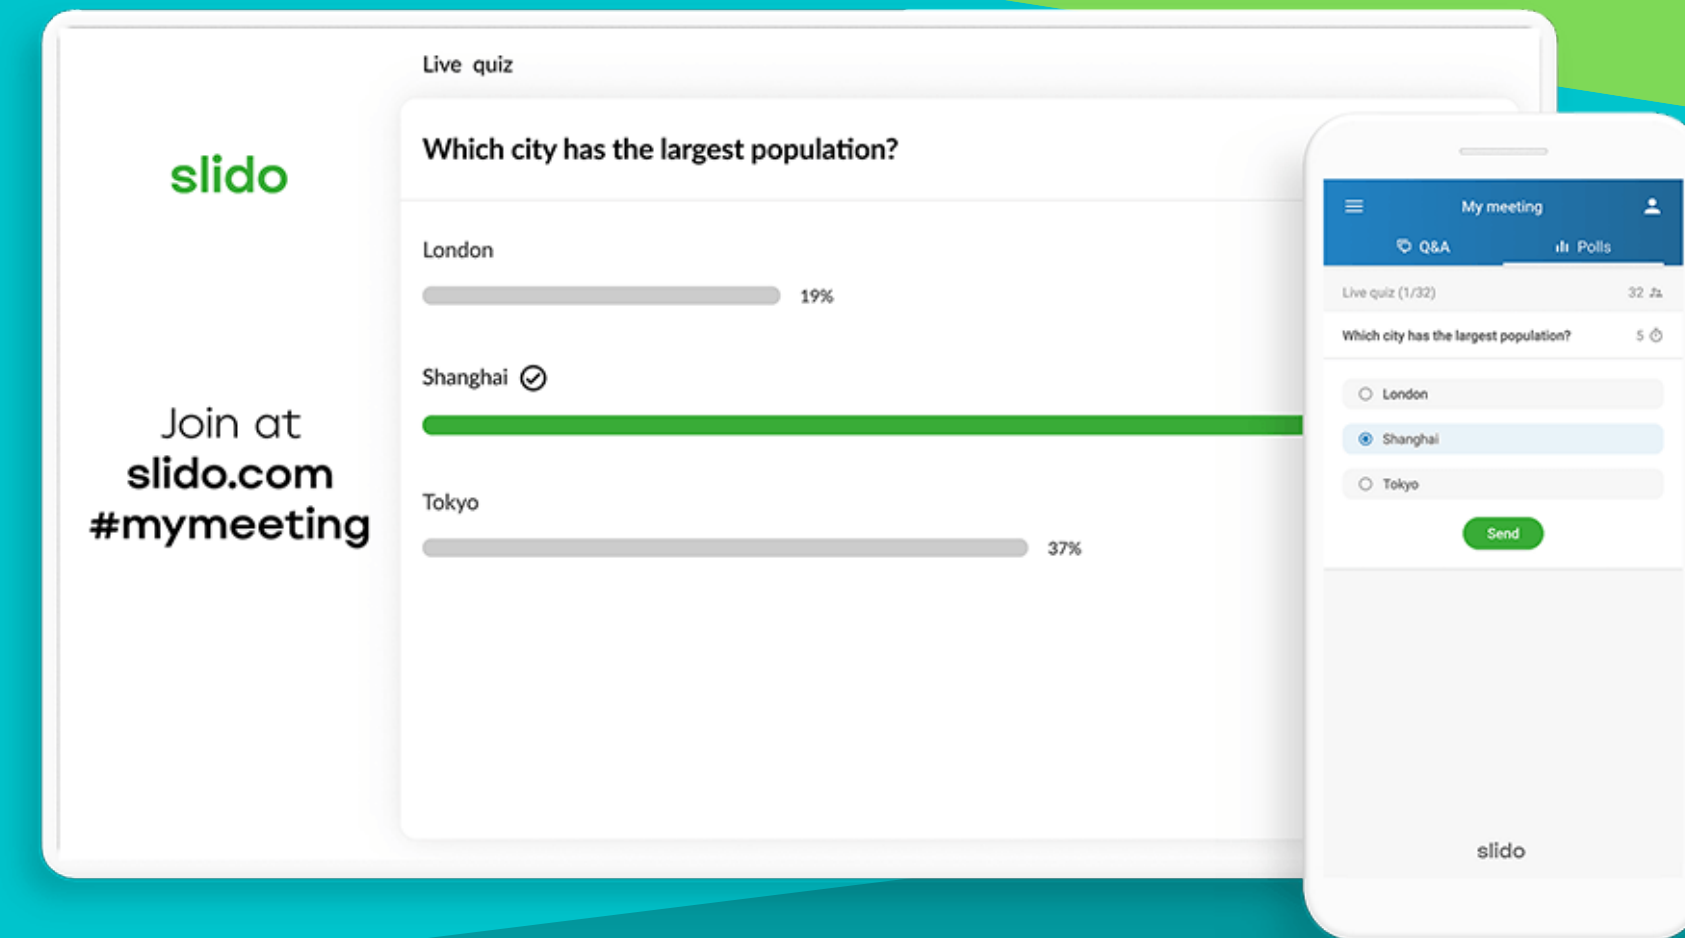

This is a great way to get feedback from everyone. This can be used as an ice breaker, or to reengage people during meetings/events.

Check understanding using a quiz.

Quizzes are a fun and interactive way to check understanding or break the ice.

Get quick feedback from your audience using a rating poll

Your audience can answer questions by rating from 1 to 10 stars.

This can be a great tool to find out how your audience is feeling about a project or how well they have received information.
